ambos spoke about the creation of the City and how the community and business leaders continue to add "glamour" to the community through the arts, social and cultural events, parks and philanthropic giving to special needs. After an energetic evening of visiting with new and old friends, Mayor Galambos said, "Thank you so much for showing such an interest in my memoir!"

CIBO E BEVE, one of Sandy Springs' newest restaurants, treated ArtSS members and special guests with a modern approach to authentic Italian cuisine and even created a special cocktail drink in honor of Mayor Galambos, "The Eva Lemontini."

ArtSS would like to send a special thank you to the Mayor for signing so many books during last week's special evening (she sold out of her hard back books and had to take special orders!), and to CIBO E BEVE's Executive Chef and Partner Linda Harrell and Managing Partner Steve Buero, who with their staff provided a beautiful venue and superb service.

(LtoR) Sandy Springs Conservancy Board members Lucy Cabot-Smethhurst, Steve Levetan, and Janice Levetan visit with Mayor Galambos's husband of 62 years, Dr. John Galambos.
